Re: Weir v. White, Julian & Billy Bob Teeth, Inc.

Dear Mr. Mormino:

I am in receipt of your email requesting confirmation of the agreement, my tax identification and a statement regarding satisfaction of liens. By way of this letter, I address those matters.

First, I have received verbal agreement from my client accepting your offer and acknowledging his responsibility for any possible lien. I have forwarded to him via email through Office Depot a document for him to sign confirming his acceptance and responsibility for liens. I expect it back later today.

Second, my tax identification is attached.

Third, there are no liens, but by way of this letter I acknowledge that my client will be responsible for any related liens out of the settlement. I also suggest that you write into the release that, if there are liens, my client is responsible for them.

I hope this has satisfied your concerns. Feel free to contact me on anything else that needs to be addressed.

Very truly yours,

Ralph D. Davis
